

Hands. The biggest killers in India.

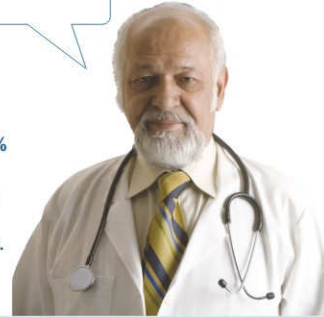

1,000 children die everyday in India due to Diarrhea caused by poor sanitary habits*.

Dirtying your hands after toilet is the primary cause of deadly diseases like Diarrhea, Jaundice and Typhoid.

Medical research proves our hands are the prime carriers of dreaded diseases. And washing hands with soap after toilet is not sufficient since soap at best cleans only 45% germs.* The rest of the germs stay under our nails and inside our skin pores and find their way into food when we eat, cook (e.g. make atta) or feed children. That's why all leading hospitals today use alcohol scrubs instead of soap.
